MILLENIUM GALLERY, SHEFFIELD – John Ruskin: Art & Wonder : Saturday 22 June 2019

This exhibition is rooted in Ruskin's fascination with the marvels of the natural world. Celebrating 200 years of the influential artist, critic and scholar, it explores how Ruskin championed the joy that nature can bring to our lives and the sense of awe it can evoke within us. His passion for nature began with a childhood fascination for minerals and mountains. He later wrote about geology, botany and zoology, explaining how the study of natural history was central to his thinking around both art and architecture. He believed understanding the natural world enriches our lives in many ways; for him, appreciating its beauty was just as valuable as any scientific knowledge. Art & Wonder celebrates how artists, including JMW Turner, Edward Lear and JJ Audubon have captured the incredible spectacle of nature. Discover dazzling highlights from the Guild of St George's Ruskin Collection, including botanical and ornithological studies and jewel-like mineral specimens, alongside significant national loans and a new commission by contemporary artist, Dan Holdsworth.

This is a self-guided tour to enable you to immerse yourself in the exhibition.
